Subject: Re: Your family law matter

Dear [BC lawyer]

Sorry about my late response, Am attaching a copy of the Property Settlement Agreement my ex spouse and I agreed on for a one time settlement of family support and property division in a total sum. Substantial amount was paid, leaving balance yet to be paid. I have explored all possible option to have him pay balance but he refuse to comply. The stipulated time for completion of payment has long elapsed; his absolute non-wiliness to pay resulted to seeking for your help. He still lives in Vancouver, BC.I am requesting your legal services for possible options of filling a contempt motion for a simple collection or litigation as I expect this to be resolved on time. (Total $725,500.00, Amount Paid $250,350.00 USD and Balance Owned $475,150.00)

Send me a copy of your retainer agreement/fees and if the terms are acceptable I will make available the retainer fees as that will enables you commence the process without delay. What are the possibilities?

My regards

Eria
