The Law Society of BC External Appointments Guidebook

Updated May 5, 2023

President's Message

For many years the Law Society of British Columbia has appointed lawyers and judges to boards, councils and committees of outside bodies. The appointments are made by the Society's Benchers, Executive Committee or President, under authority conferred by the Legal Profession Act, (S.B.C 1998, c. 9.), the Law Society Rules, Bencher resolutions, and the governing statutes, constitutions and by-laws of those outside bodies.

This guidebook presents information about the external appointments process. Section 1 sets out the Law Society's appointments policy. Section 2 outlines the key responsibilities of the Law Society when making appointments to other bodies. Section 3 provides background information and directions for submitting expressions of interest and submitting applications.

We hope that the guidebook serves as a useful reference for appointees and those who may be interested in putting their names forward as potential appointees.

For more information on the Law Society external appointments process, please contact the Manager of Governance & Board Relations at BencherRelations@lsbc.org.

1. Law Society Appointments: Policy and Process

1.1. Law Society Appointments Policy

The objective of the Law Society Appointments Policy is “... to ensure that well-qualified persons with the requisite character, knowledge, expertise, willingness and ability to undertake the duties of the position are appointed.” The Appointments Policy outlines various selection and appointment guidelines.

1.2. Term of office

Subject to the constitutional documents of the external organization, Law Society appointments to any position will normally not exceed a total period of six years. An initial appointment to a position should not create an expectation of automatic reappointment.

1.3. Benchers or non-Benchers

A Bencher should be appointed to an outside body only if that body’s legislation or by-laws require that the Law Society appointee be a Bencher. In all other cases there is a presumption against appointing Benchers to other bodies. An example of a circumstance in which that presumption might be rebutted is in the case of a newly created body, where it might be desirable to appoint a Bencher for the first one or two terms, or until the body’s procedures are well established.

1.4. Geographic considerations

The Law Society considers geographical representation when making appointments to organizations which have a province-wide scope.

1.5. Equity

The Law Society promotes diversity in its internal and external appointments and strives to ensure adequate representation based on gender, Indigenous identity, cultural diversity, disability, sexual orientation and gender identity.

1.6. Appointment of judges

Where the legislation or by-laws of the body permit, judges are eligible to be appointed to positions by the Law Society.

1.7. Communication expectations

All Law Society appointees or nominees to other bodies are expected to provide timely notice to the Law Society of any plans, policies or events that

- materially change the body's objects or operations, or
- could reasonably be considered inconsistent with the Society's mandate to uphold and protect the public interest in the administration of justice
 - unless to provide such notice would be contrary to their duty to act in the best interests of those bodies

In addition, Law Society appointees or nominees to bodies whose objects are related to the Society's public interest mandate should expect to be requested

- to provide periodic updates on those bodies' affairs to the Executive Committee or the Appointments Subcommittee
 - including any plans, policies or events that
 - materially change the bodies' objects or operations, or
 - could reasonably be considered to be inconsistent with the public interest in the administration of justice
 - unless to do so would be contrary to their duty to act in the best interests of those bodies
- to complete a voluntary, online assessment of their appointment experience at the conclusion of each term

These periodic updates and post-appointment assessments by Law Society appointees to bodies whose objects are related to the Society's public interest mandate

- reflect and enhance the mutual commitment of the Law Society and those bodies
 - to protecting and promoting the public interest in the administration of justice
 - to supporting good governance practice by the Law Society and those bodies
 - to supporting continuous improvement of the Law Society's processes for making appointments and nominations to outside bodies

The Law Society will maintain a listing of Law Society appointments, both current and pending, on the Law Society website, including

- description of the organization
- outline of the appointee's responsibilities
- contact information for inquiries
- directions for submitting expressions of interest and resumes

The Law Society will provide appropriate orientation and guidance regarding its expectations of those appointees to outside bodies whose responsibilities include representing and communicating the interests of the Law Society to such bodies.

2. Law Society Appointments Process

The Executive Committee considers and makes recommendations regarding all Law Society external appointments and nominations.

The Executive Committee strives to ensure that its recommendations for appointment or nomination to the Law Society's appointing authority (the Benchers, the Executive Committee or the President) are well informed, appropriately considered and timely, and in accordance with the Law Society's Appointments Policy.

A list of Law Society appointments, both current and pending, is included as Appendix A.

3. Expressions of Interest

Individuals who wish to express their interest in being considered as an appointee or nominee are encouraged to submit an online application for consideration on the Law Society website: www.lawsociety.bc.ca.

The online expressions of interest form can be found under About Us > Volunteers and Appointments > Apply Online for Consideration. Applicants are requested to submit a current resume, a brief expression of interest and an outline of related skills and experience. Applicants are also asked to indicate the organizations and appointments of particular interest to them.

We will keep each applicant's expression of interest and related information for one year from the date of submission, or until the date a resulting appointment takes effect, whichever comes first. You will be contacted if you are short-listed for an upcoming appointment or nomination.

If you have questions about Law Society appointments to other organizations, please contact the Manager of Governance & Board Relations at BencherRelations@lsbc.org.
