

CLIENT IDENTIFICATION, VERIFICATION, AND SOURCE OF MONEY CHECKLIST

The Law Society Rules in Part 3–Division 11–Client Identification and Verification (Rules 3-98 to 3-110) require lawyers to follow identification, verification, source of money, and monitoring procedures when retained to provide legal services. Lawyers are obligated to know their clients, understand their client’s financial dealings in relation to the retainer, and manage any risks arising from the professional business relationship (Rule 3-99(1.1)). This checklist assists with compliance; however, refer to the rules to determine the requirements. Failure to comply with the rules, a key part of the Law Society’s efforts to combat money laundering and terrorist financing, can have significant disciplinary, insurance, and financial consequences. Trust shortage liability coverage is contingent upon compliance with Division 11.

Identification and verification are separate but related concepts. Client identification requires you to obtain and record, with the applicable date, specific identity information. Additionally, client verification and source of money information are required when you receive, pay, or transfer money on behalf of a client, or give instructions on behalf of a client in respect of the receipt, payment, or transfer of money (a “financial transaction”). A “Source of Money checklist” is part of this checklist (see p. A-1-15). Note that verification and source of money obligations may be triggered in situations that do not involve the use of a trust account.

If there is a “financial transaction”, you must: (1) obtain and record, with the applicable date, information from the “client” about the source of “money” for the transaction, and (2) verify the client’s identity to confirm that they are who they say they are. For individuals, including an individual instructing you on an organization’s behalf, the four main verification methods are: (1) the government-issued photo ID method with a physical meeting; (2) the government-issued photo ID method with a virtual meeting (includes a reliable authentication technology requirement); (3) the credit file method (no physical meeting required); and (4) the dual process method (no physical meeting required). Your responsibilities may be fulfilled by your firm, including members or employees of the firm, wherever located. You may retain an agent to verify a client’s identity provided you and the agent have an agreement or arrangement in writing (see Appendix 1 at p. A-1-17 for a sample agreement). Special rules apply for “organization” clients (e.g., trusts and corporations) that include obtaining beneficial ownership information.

While retained in respect of a “financial transaction”, monitor the professional business relationship with the client on a periodic basis (Rule 3-110). Record the monitoring measures taken and the information obtained. Be alert to red flags or suspicious circumstances when onboarding the client or at any time while retained (note Rule 3-103(4), Rules 3-109 to 3-110, BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8). If you know or ought to know that you would be assisting a client in fraud or other illegal conduct, or a client persists in instructing you to act contrary to professional ethics, you must withdraw (Rule 3-109, BC Code rule 3.7-7).

Terms defined in Rule 3-98 appear in boldface type in this checklist: “client”, “disbursements”, “expenses”, “financial institution”, “financial transaction”, “interjurisdictional lawyer”, “money”, “organization”, “professional fees”, “public body”, “reporting issuer”, and “securities dealer”. Pay close attention to the definitions, as they may not be consistent with common use. Note that “financial transaction”, “money”, and “client” are widely defined. A “client” includes another party that your client represents or on whose behalf the client otherwise acts (e.g., a beneficial owner) in relation to obtaining the legal services from you, and in Rules 3-102 to 3-105, an individual who instructs you on behalf of a client in relation to a financial transaction. Identification and verification requirements vary according to the type of transaction and entity.

PART 3–DIVISION 11–GENERAL EXEMPTIONS FROM IDENTIFICATION AND VERIFICATION

You may use the checklist’s general exemptions section to assist you with compliance and to record information; however, refer to the rules to determine the requirements. Terms defined in Rule 3-98 appear in boldface type in this checklist: “client”, “disbursements”, “expenses”, “financial institution”, “financial transaction”, “interjurisdictional lawyer”, “money”, “organization”, “professional fees”, “public body”, “reporting issuer”, and “securities dealer”. Pay close attention to the definitions. Note the wide definition of “client”, and ensure that you have identified and verified all applicable individuals and organizations (e.g., including beneficial owners). Note that if the instructing individual of an organization changes, you must identify the new individual, and if there is a “financial transaction”, verify the new individual’s identity as well.

This checklist assumes that there are no red flags or suspicious circumstances. For red flags and suspicious circumstances, make reasonable inquiries, make a record of the results, and determine if you can act or must withdraw. Consider Rules 3-103(4), 3-109 to 3-110 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8 and 3.7-7. Also refer to the Red Flags Quick Reference Guide, the FAQs and other resources on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage.

You have a professional responsibility to safeguard the confidentiality of client information (BC Code, s. 3.3 and Law Society Rule 10-4). You must also comply with applicable privacy legislation affecting the collection, use and retention of personal information (Personal Information Protection Act, S.B.C. 2003, c. 63 and other relevant legislation).

IDENTIFICATION CHECKLIST

You may use the checklist’s identification section to assist you with compliance and to record required information; however, refer to the rules to determine the requirements. Terms defined in Rule 3-98 appear in boldface type in this checklist: “client”, “disbursements”, “expenses”, “financial institution”, “financial transaction”, “interjurisdictional lawyer”, “money”, “organization”, “professional fees”, “public body”, “reporting issuer”, and “securities dealer”. Pay close attention to the definitions. Note the wide definition of “client”, and ensure that you identify all applicable individuals and organizations. Note that if the instructing individual of an organization changes, you must identify the new individual.

Unless an exemption applies, you must obtain and record the identification information with the applicable date (Rules 3-100 and 3-107). You are not required to obtain and copy documents for compliance with Rule 3-100; however, it may be prudent to do so depending on the circumstances (Rules 3-99(1.1) and 3-109 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 and 3.2-8). You must retain copies of any documents obtained or produced (Rule 3-107).

Your firm, including members or employees, may fulfill your Division 11 responsibilities (Rule 3-99(3)).

This checklist assumes that there are no red flags or suspicious circumstances. For red flags and suspicious circumstances, make reasonable inquiries and make a record of the results and determine if you can act or must withdraw. Consider Rules 3-109 to 3-110 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8 and 3.7-7. Also refer to the Red Flags Quick Reference Guide, FAQs and other publications on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage.

You have a professional responsibility to safeguard the confidentiality of client information (BC Code, s. 3.3 and Law Society Rule 10-4). You must also comply with applicable privacy legislation affecting the collection, use and retention of personal information (Personal Information Protection Act, S.B.C. 2003, c. 63 and other relevant legislation).

IDENTIFICATION EXEMPTION
Have you previously identified this client and retained a record with the applicable date, without having reason to believe the information, or the accuracy of it, has changed?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Yes – repeat identification not required (Rules 3-100(2) and 3-107)
Date confirmed:

VERIFICATION CHECKLIST

You may use the checklist’s verification section to assist you with compliance and to record information, however, refer to the rules to determine the information and documents necessary to verify client identity. Terms defined in Rule 3-98 appear in boldface type in this checklist: “client”, “disbursements”, “expenses”, “financial institution”, “financial transaction”, “interjurisdictional lawyer”, “money”, “organization”, “professional fees”, “public body”, “reporting issuer”, and “securities dealer”. Pay close attention to the definitions. Note the wide definition of “client” and the Rule 3-103 requirements to ensure that you consider all applicable individuals and organizations (e.g., including beneficial owners, the actual individuals who are the trustees and known beneficiaries and settlors of a trust, or those who directly or indirectly own or control 25% or more of a corporation or society or other organization such as a partnership). Note that if the instructing individual of an organization changes, you must verify the new individual’s identity.

Your firm, including members or employees, may fulfill your responsibilities (Rule 3-99(3)).

This checklist assumes that there are no red flags or suspicious circumstances. For red flags and suspicious circumstances, make reasonable inquiries, make a record of the results, and determine if you can act or must withdraw. Consider Rules 3-103(4), 3-109 to 3-110 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8 and 3.7-7. Also refer to the Red Flags Quick Reference Guide, FAQs and other publications on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage.

You have a professional responsibility to safeguard the confidentiality of client information (BC Code, s. 3.3 and Law Society Rule 10-4). You should also be aware of your legal responsibilities under the Personal Information Protection Act, S.B.C. 2003, c. 63 and other relevant legislation.

VERIFICATION EXEMPTIONS
Will you provide legal services in respect of a financial transaction ?
<input type="checkbox"/>	No – verification not required (Rules 3-99(2) and 3-102)
Have you previously verified this client’s identity, and the identity of instructing individuals if the client is an organization ? Have you retained a record of the information, and the copies of the documents obtained or produced with the applicable date? In the case of an individual, do you recognize the individual whose identity you previously verified? (Note that if the instructing individual of an organization changes, you must verify the identity of the new individual.)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Yes – repeat verification not required assuming you have no reason to believe the information, or the accuracy of it has changed (Rules 3-105(2) and 3-106(2)) (Note: Monitoring is not exempted (Rule 3-110))
	Date confirmed:
If you provide legal services with respect to a financial transaction :

Is the client :
<input type="checkbox"/>	A financial institution, public body, or reporting issuer ?
<input type="checkbox"/>	An individual instructing you on behalf of a financial institution, public body, or reporting issuer ?
<input type="checkbox"/>	If yes to any of the above, verification not required (Rule 3-101(a)) (Note: Monitoring is not exempted (Rule 3-110))
	Date confirmed:
Will you:
<input type="checkbox"/>	Pay money to or receive money from a financial institution, public body, or reporting issuer acting as a principal?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Receive money paid from the trust account of another B.C. lawyer or interjurisdictional lawyer ?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Receive money from a peace officer, law enforcement agency, or other public official acting in an official capacity?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Pay or receive money to pay a fine, penalty, or bail?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Pay or receive money for professional fees, disbursements, or expenses ?
<input type="checkbox"/>	If yes to any of the above, verification is not required for the applicable financial transaction (Rule 3-101(b)). Note that if there is another financial transaction, verification is required unless an exemption applies. (Note: Monitoring is not exempted (Rule 3-110)).
	Date confirmed:
If all funds involved are being transferred by electronic transmission, and neither the sending nor the receiving account holders handle or transfer the funds :
<input type="checkbox"/>	Is the transfer occurring between financial institutions or financial entities headquartered and operating in countries that are members of the Financial Action Task Force?
<input type="checkbox"/>	Does the transmission record contain a reference number, date, transfer amount, type of currency, the names of the sending and receiving account holders, and the names of the sending and receiving entities?
<input type="checkbox"/>	If yes to all of the above, verification may not be required (Rule 3-101(c)). Part 3–Division 7 trust rule compliance is also required, and thus the exemption may be incompatible with the trust rules. See Rules 3-64(4), 3-64.1, and 3-64.2). Note that monitoring is not exempted (Rule 3-110)).
	Date confirmed:

VERIFICATION INFORMATION AND DOCUMENTS

If the verification exemptions above do not apply, you must obtain from the client and record, with the applicable date, information about the source of money (see “Source of Money” in this checklist) and verify the client’s identity by means of the documents and information set out in Rule 3-102. Retain a record of the information obtained, with the applicable dates, and the documents obtained or produced (Rule 3-107)). Special rules apply for individuals under 12 years of age (Rule 3-102(5)) and for individuals 12 years or over but less than 15 years (Rule 3-102(6)). Documents used to verify identity must be valid, authentic, and current, and information must be valid and current. A member or employee of your firm may fulfill your responsibilities, or you may retain an agent to verify the client’s identity on your behalf.

Verify all applicable individuals and organizations, noting the definition of client. If the instructing individual of an organization changes, you must identify and verify the new individual’s identity. Note the requirements regarding identification of directors, shareholders, ownership, control, and structure of an organization and the trustees and beneficiaries and settlors of a trust (Rule 3-103). Note that the ultimate owner is not another organization; it must be the actual individuals who own or control the organization.

If a director is the instructing individual, verify the director’s identity (Rules 3-98 and 3-102) and, in addition, comply with Rule 3-103 with respect to that director. If you are not able to obtain the information referred to in Rule 3-103 or to confirm its accuracy, see Rule 3-103(4). Also consider Rules 3-109 to 3-110 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8.

For individuals, including an individual instructing you on an organization’s behalf, the verification methods are: (1) the government-issued photo ID method (physical meeting or virtual meeting using reliable authentication technology); (2) the credit file method (no physical meeting required); and (3) the dual process method (no physical meeting required).

INDIVIDUALS
<input type="checkbox"/>	Client is an individual (includes the instructing individual of an organization). Clients (or their family members or close associates) who are identified as politically exposed persons or heads of international organizations may involve unique risks for lawyers (see Guidance on Politically Exposed Persons/Heads of International Organizations and the Red Flags Quick Reference Guide and other resources on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage).
A. Government-issued photo ID method
	This method requires that you either physically meet the client or that you have a virtual meeting. If you have a virtual meeting, you must use reliable authentication technology. Verifying identity only by viewing the individual and their ID in a video conference and obtaining a scan of their ID is not sufficient. See the information in “Methods to verify an individual’s identity” in the FAQs and Guidance for virtual verification of your client’s identity using government-issued photo ID and technology .
	Use valid, authentic, and current photo ID such as:
<input type="checkbox"/>	Driver’s licence

<input type="checkbox"/>	BC Services Card
<input type="checkbox"/>	Canadian Permanent Resident Card
<input type="checkbox"/>	Passport
<input type="checkbox"/>	Secure Certificate of Indian Status
<input type="checkbox"/>	NEXUS Card
<input type="checkbox"/>	Other, similar record (other than an ID issued by a municipal government)
	Lawyer/law firm employee who verified ID:
	Date verified:
	(Must verify an individual at the time legal services are provided in respect of the financial transaction : Rule 3-105)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Obtain and retain a copy (front and back) that includes the name, photo, type of document, ID number, jurisdiction and place of issuance (e.g., province, country) and, if available, the expiry date.
B. Credit file method (physical meeting not required)
	The identity verification information (not a credit rating) must be obtained directly from a Canadian credit bureau (Equifax or TransUnion) or a third-party vendor authorized by the credit bureau to obtain the information from the credit bureau. You cannot rely on a copy of credit file information provided by the individual whose identity you need to verify. Information from a foreign credit bureau is not acceptable. See the FAQs for more information.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Client has a credit file located in Canada that has been in existence for at least three years with tradelines that are independent of the client
<input type="checkbox"/>	Client has consented to a search of the client's Canadian credit file for identity verification
<input type="checkbox"/>	The name, address and date of birth in the client's credit file match the information the client provided
	Credit bureau's name:

		(The credit file search must be conducted at the time legal services are provided in respect of the financial transaction : Rule 3-105)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Copy of credit file verification document attached
C. Dual process method (physical meeting not required)
Obtain information from a reliable source from any two of the three categories below. The information must be from two different sources. The individual, you or an agent is not a source (Rule 3-102(4)). A reliable source would be a source that is well known and considered reputable (e.g., federal, territorial, and municipal levels of government, Crown corporations, financial institutions, and utility providers). Example documents: bank statement, letter from bank, credit card statement, utility bill, insurance document (home, car, life), mortgage statement, municipal property tax assessment, provincial or territorial vehicle registration, investment account statement (RRSP, TFSA, RRIF), Canada Pension Plan or other benefits statement, Canada Revenue Agency document (requirement to pay, installment reminder, GST refund letter, notice of assessment), or birth certificate. With the client's consent, you may be able to view password protected information online from the reliable source without the client disclosing their password to you. Documents must be valid, authentic, current, and information must be valid and current. See the FAQs for more information.

Organizations
Verify the identity of the individual(s) instructing you on the organization's behalf (see above) as well as the organization . See the Red Flags Quick Reference Guide and other resources on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage .
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Client is an organization
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Client is created or registered pursuant to legislative authority (e.g., company, society, cooperative, limited partnership, LLP). Obtain written confirmation from a government registry as to client's existence, its name and address, including the names of directors, where applicable, such as: a certificate of corporate status issued by a public body , a copy of annual filings required under applicable legislation, or a similar record (Rule 3-102(2)(b) and (3.1))

Requirement to identify directors, shareholders, and owners of organization
<input type="checkbox"/>	Obtain and record the names of all directors if the organization is not a securities dealer (Rule 3-103(1)). Record all efforts made to obtain the information, and record all reasonable measures taken to confirm the accuracy of the information, with the applicable dates (e.g., government registry search). One document may satisfy two steps; i.e., to obtain information and to confirm its accuracy. If efforts were unsuccessful, explain why and refer to Rule 3-103(4), treating the client as high risk. Also consider Rule 3-109 and BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8 and 3.7-7.

Record all efforts made to obtain the information (e.g., official documentation supplied by client, verbal information from client that you record in writing, client fills out a form and provides it to you). Also record all reasonable measures taken to confirm the accuracy of the information (e.g., client signs a document confirming the information, shareholder agreement, partnership agreement, directors' meeting records of decisions, shareholders register), with the applicable dates. One document may satisfy two steps; i.e., to obtain information and confirm its accuracy. If efforts were unsuccessful, explain why and refer to Rule 3-103(4), treating the client as high risk. SOURCE OF MONEY CHECKLIST

When you provide legal services in respect of a financial transaction, you must obtain from the client and record, with the applicable date, information about the source of money (Rule 3-102(1)(a)). Your responsibilities may be fulfilled by your firm, including members or employees of the firm, wherever located. See the source of money “FAQs”. Also consider the accounting requirements in Part 3–Division 7–Trust Accounts and Other Client Property.

Be cautious about a client who is evasive about the source of money for a financial transaction. For red flags and suspicious circumstances, consider Rules 3-109 to 3-110, BC Code rules 3.2-7 to 3.2-8 and 3.7-7. Make reasonable inquiries, make a record of the results, and determine if you can act or must withdraw. APPENDIX I - SAMPLE AGREEMENT WITH AGENT FOR VERIFICATION OF CLIENT IDENTITY

Government-issued photo ID verification method (individual inside or outside of Canada)

You may use an agent to verify a client’s identity. Client is widely defined in Rule 3-98 and includes an individual instructing a lawyer on behalf of an organization. Rule 3-104 requires that you and the agent have an agreement or arrangement in writing for this purpose. The Law Society recommends that you use this sample agreement when retaining an agent to verify the identity of an individual client where the agent will physically meet with the client and review their original government-issued identification document. The agreement will need to be amended if the agent will use other permitted methods of verifying identity. Lawyers who have relied on an agent to verify a client’s identity but failed to have an agency agreement or arrangement in place have been disciplined.

Rule 3-104 does not require that the agent be a lawyer or notary. Use your judgment to choose a reputable person who understands what is expected and who will carry out the required work. Keep in mind that the agent is your agent, not the client’s agent. Accordingly, select your agent and follow up to ensure that the agent actually carried out the work. In some cases, potential new clients have chosen the agent to the lawyer’s detriment. The agent was not who they purported to be and was simply part of an arrangement to set up a scam on the lawyer. See the FAQs on the Client ID & Verification and Anti-Money Laundering Risk Management webpage for more information about using an agent.
